PROUD TO BE CARLISLE COUNTY OWNED AND OPERATED

Fiscal Court Discusses Possible Litigation Against Cities of Arlington and Bardwell During Fiscal Court Meeting

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

The Carlisle County Fiscal Court met in regular session on June 19, 2012. The previous meeting's minutes were approved and Carlisle County Judge Executive Greg Terry reported on the Ambulance Service in Director Wayne Floyd's absence.

Judge Executive Terry reported that the ambulance service is now starting to receive a flow of funds that were backed up during the transition to the new Medicare program, and that everything was beginning to flow nicely.

In the emergency services report Carissa Viniard reported that she has been meeting with the regional disaster emergency services director and learning the ropes of the director's position.

Viniard also said that she has began the filing process for hazard mitigation grants and the fiscal court passed a resolution for hazard mitigation related to the grants that put a generator in the Carlisle County Schools cafeteria.

In the jail report Carlisle County Jailer Ronny Owens reported that there were four inmates in the Ballard County Detention Center and two in the Hickman County Correctional Facility.

In the road department report Carlisle County Judge Executive Greg Terry reported that the bridge at Bobby Yates Road will be completed by this Friday, with work on the wooden bridge in Cunningham currently ongoing.

Judge Executive Terry spoke about the spraying that the county experimented with in containment of weeds versus the usual mowing. Judge Executive Terry said that the spraying has been successful and has saved the county money on gas and hours on the equipment. Out of the 180 miles of Carlisle County roads, 100 were sprayed and the fiscal court agreed to look into spraying additional roads next year.

Magistrate Burley Mathis addressed the court and said that work had to be done from Fish Lake Bridge to Colonels Line, as the roads have deteriorated in that area.

Judge Executive Terry said that he will have the road department look at the situation and address it. Magistrate Sonny Pearson added that if the sand situation in the bottoms was not addressed soon, roads could be lost in the bottoms. Terry added that he will follow up on previous calls to the Army Corp of Engineers.

In the 911 report Josh Glover was away at a conference in Louisville, but Judge Executive Greg Terry reported that the county received a $35,000 grant for three recycling bins. These bins will be the same exact type of recycling bin that currently is travelling throughout the county.

Magistrate Pearson inquired about the dumpsters that were set up in the four towns of Arlington, Bardwell, Cunningham and Milburn that were for everything that wasn't recyclable. Judge Executive Terry informed Pearson that those dumpsters were for flooding emergencies and were purchased with grant funding. After discussion the fiscal court agreed to get quotes for the rental of dumpsters for all non-recyclables in July and make those available to Carlisle County residents for the month of July.

In the 911 report Judge Executive Terry reported that the communications tower was fully operational and there are only a few radios left to program.

Terry next reported that dispatcher Sandra Mitchell needed to be moved to full-time status as Betsy Case moved on. Judge Executive Terry and Carlisle County Attorney Michael Hogancamp, along with the magistrates, discussed a contract that would need to be signed by dispatchers after they attend the dispatcher school in Richmond. This contract would ensure that they would stay with the Carlisle County Dispatch Service for a certain period of time. "We invest the people's money into these dispatchers attending the schooling in Richmond and we cannot allow something like this to happen again," Terry said.

Under new business the fiscal court discussed the sanitation department situation. The Carlisle County Sanitation Department currently has $14,000 in bills and only $8,000 in its account with $140,000 owed to them by the City of Arlington and Bardwell.

Judge Executive Terry told the fiscal court that the possibility of legal action could be on the horizon. Magistrates showed concern over what the sanitation department's side owed, and Judge Terry told them that everything was up to date on their side, but they are owed $140,000 by the cities.

"Arlington has refused to accept the budget billing and the City of Bardwell has at least increased their rates at their most recent meeting, which is a good step. However, both of those cities have two of the lowest rates for water and sewage in the state of Kentucky, and they can't even pay to the sanitation department what they are taking in from the public," Terry said.

Terry included that the sanitation department and the Environmental Protection Agency is at their wits end with the cities' lack of payment. Due to this lack of payment, according to Terry, the sanitation department is not in compliance because they cannot afford to buy parts essential to the day-to-day operations.

Terry concluded by saying the Kentucky Department of Rural Water will meet again with all entities to see if there can be any solution to the issue. If not, legal action will have to be taken against the cities of Arlington and Bardwell.

The last order of business included an agreement between the county and the county attorney's office. "Having County Attorney Michael Hogancamp in the courthouse with the county has been a major asset to the county," Greg Terry said.

In a move to ensure that he stays in the courthouse and does not have to have a separate office for his private law practice, Hogancamp and the county agreed to a $150 per month rental of the courthouse for his private practice part of his business. The Kentucky Administrative Office of Courts pays the other half of the rent for his duties of Carlisle County Attorney. That figure was based on the square footage of Hogancamp's office.

With there being no further business the June 19, 2012, Carlisle County Fiscal Court meeting adjourned.

A Journey Across America Makes a Stop in Cunningham, Kentucky

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

The desire to leave a mark on the world and help out their fellow man-two key integral parts in two brothers' journey across America on a Longboard.

Tanner and Caleb Childs of Mt. Pleasant, North Carolina, embarked on their journey across America- final destination, the Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco, California. On their journey, they made a pit stop in Cunningham, Kentucky, the home of Ron and Beverly Collins.

How they got to Cunningham, Kentucky, was a story in itself. While in Pleasant View, Tennessee, the brothers made a pit stop for the evening at the local Pleasant View Fire Department. An hour after their departure Tanner had a long boarding accident and had to receive medical attention from the fire fighters. One of those volunteer firefighters was Carlisle County native Brian Collins.

Collins offered to take Tanner to his hometown of Cunningham, Kentucky, where Tanner could rest and recover from his injuries, while his brother Caleb made the journey from Pleasant View to Cunningham, Kentucky, on longboard.

The Collins family invited the Carlisle Weekly to their home where Brian's parents, Ron and Beverly Collins, along with Brian's two children, Anna and Gavin Collins, treated me and the Childs brothers to a delicious home cooked meal.

The first question of course, to the visibly road rashed and stitched up Tanner Childs, was, Why make such a journey?

Tanner explained that approaching his senior year of college at UNC Charlotte he wanted to plan something to "do something crazy" and "have a story to tell" before he had to grow up and get fully entrenched in "real life".

So, two years ago, he proposed an idea to his brother Caleb to longboard from the coast of Wilmington, North Carolina, to The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, California. "I thought he was absolutely crazy at first," Caleb Childs said.

However, during Thanksgiving dinner 2011, the brothers decided that maybe it wasn't so crazy and maybe that they could do some good on their proposed adventure.

So, the brothers began to plan fundraising events for supplies for their journey and decided that by contacting media outlets along their way and raising awareness to their journey and the charities they are benefitting they could, in return, raise money for those charities.

So, the brothers began their journey on May 14, 2012, out of Wilmington, NC. Both are traveling on foot, along with a little help from their longboards, a longer variant of a skateboard used for cruising. They aim to cover 25 to 35 miles a day, and expect the 3,000 mile journey to take about six months to complete.

The charities that the brothers are benefitting are charities that they hold close to their heart. Two of them are local charities in their hometown. The first is the Vicki S. Honeycutt Foundation. The Vicki S. Honeycutt Foundation is a charity that helps teachers who are battling cancer and it is also in memory of the charity's namesake, who was an inspiration for the two Childs brothers and their community as they grew up.

The other local charity that they are helping is The North Toxaway Food Bank. The North Toxaway Baptist Church runs this food bank, and with the recent downturn in the economy the needs of the food bank are growing more and more each day.

The brothers also wanted to help out a national charity and that charity that they have chosen is The Injured Marine Semper Fi Fund, which provides immediate financial support for injured and critically ill members of the U.S. Armed Forces and their families.

For more information on the Childs brothers' journey and to learn more about their charities, you can visit their website at www.longboardingusa.com. From there you can follow them on Facebook and Twitter.

The Carlisle County Democratic Party held a fish fry fundraiser last Friday at the Bardwell Fire Department. A big crowd turned out at the fire department Friday for delicious fish, musical entertainment and speaking. The two speakers for the evening were Carroll Hubbard, Democratic candidate for Kentucky Senate District 1 and Michael Toon, Democratic Candidate for Carlisle County Clerk. Hubbard told the crowd that his opponent had very little care for the far western part of the district. “My opponent was handpicked by senator David Williams and is from Lyon County and could care less about the river counties of Kentucky and in places like Fulton County, where unemployment is the highest in the state,” Hubbard said. Hubbard is slated to run against the Republican candidate, Stan Humphries. Michael Toon, candidate for Carlisle County Clerk took the mic next and told the crowd in attendance that the clerk’s office was an office for the people. “This office is for the people of Carlisle County and it would be an honor to serve the people of Carlisle County and be their next Carlisle County Clerk and have those people have a say in how the office is ran,” Toon said. Toon is slated to run in November against the Republican candidate, Lisa Mantle-Adams. The Carlisle County Democratic Executive Committee would like to thank all of those who overwhelmingly donated fish, desserts, their talents and time to the dinner and made it a great success.

Bardwell Council Discusses Clerk Position/Water Tower at Recent Meeting

By Michael Toon
Carlisle Weekly

The City of Bardwell met in regular session on June 12, 2012. The previous meeting’s minutes were approved, along with the monthly bills.

The second reading of the budget was tabled until the city could hold two more budget workshops to hammer out the final details of the city’s budget.

The second reading of the electrical rate increase of 10% was approved. This increase in electrical costs was passed in response to Kentucky Utilities’ 10% rate increase that they imposed on the City of Bardwell.

In the Purchase Area Development District (PADD) Report, Mayor Philip King reported that an ADF grant was received for $1,362, and that reimbursement on work on the water tower was in the process of being collected.

On the subject of the water tank, Mayor King said that the city was not satisfied with the work done by the company that did the paint job. According to King, the tower was to have maroon paint with gold comets painted on the side. The company that painted the tower backed off that declaration that they could do such work. King said that those details will be resolved eventually. In addition, tional water tower news, a new fence will be placed around the water tower as the old fence has rusted and began to fall down.

Sewer rates were discussed, as they have been at the previous four or five meetings. After discussion the council decided that there was no choice but to raise the sewer rates, but not at the pace that was suggested by the Kentucky Rural Water Association. “There is no way we can jump these rates to where they are suggesting- it is going to have to be a stair step approach over the next 20 years,” Councilman Michael Hoskins said.

After lengthy discussion, the city’s water rate was raised from a base of $14.20 to $20.00, increasing as the customer’s usage increases. The council also approved the increase of the base sewer rate from $4.00 to $7.00 in order to help combat the rising sanitation department debt. Both measures were approved, seconded and passed unanimously.

Councilman Michael Hoskins requested that discussion on the City Clerk position be placed on the agenda for the month of June.

The current city clerk, Sue Ann Tolbird, is slated to retire in August. Until then, Missy Rowland was hired to train under Tolbird until Tolbird’s retirement date.

Councilman Hoskins and other council members were upset that they were not notified of the hiring or even were approached for council on the matter. “I have nothing at all against Missy, but we heard all the rumors about Missy being hired and then we saw it and knew about it in the paper before any of us were contacted,” Hoskins said. Hoskins also had an issue with Rowland being paid more than Adrian Burgess, who has been with the City of Bardwell for nearly a year.

Mayor King apologized for the lack of communication, but he knew that in Missy’s situation he knew he had to move fast and hire her because of her expertise in grant writing, emergency management, and the impact she would have in the office being able to handle multiple duties when one of the other workers were out on vacation or at a child’s school event. In regards to the scale of pay, King justified Rowland’s pay, citing her immediate impact she will have in the filing for and acquisition of grants. “Her work in that field of expertise alone will pay dividends for the City of Bardwell immediately,” King said.

Rowland, who was at the meeting, felt that the City Clerk position was an opportunity to move from the Emergency Management Director’s position with the county, where she was on call for 24 hours a day, to a position where she wouldn’t have to be on call for 24 hours. Since Sue Ann Tolbird will not retire until August of 2012, Missy Rowland will have to be designated as City Clerk in Training for the time being.

June 23, 1963, to March 26, 2011

By Kay Presson

Isn't it wonderful to see friends whom we have not seen in a long time? Saturday, after work, I picked up Xandra and Savannah, (my two little granddaughters.) We gathered my little dog, yep, I do have another dog. Then, we walked around the park and to the Post Office.

There on the parking lot were two friends from years ago. Mike and Carolyn Butler were sitting in his vehicle, and his mother, Thelma Fleming, was just walking out the door.

For the life of me, I did not recognize Mike, however, he and Carolyn recognized me and told me I looked wonderful. What a wonderful compliment, it lifted my spirits!

I asked them if they remembered the "cockatiel incident," and they both laughed and said, "yes, indeed, we still talk about it." So, folks, following is the "cockatiel incident," which happened over 30 years ago.

Mike and Carolyn Butler were our neighbors, and were excellent neighbors. They lived on what used to be Gup-ton School Road near our home. My sister, Annette, had asked me to keep her cockatiel for her, and furnished a cage. Somehow, that bird did not want to reside in the cage and every opportunity, would weasel his way out of it.

One of our kids, either David or Sarah, went outside to play...opened the front door, and that cockatiel, which had gotten out of his cage, made a mad dash for the open air. My kids were hollering, "Mama, Mama, the bird is outside!"

As I ran out the front door and onto the lawn, I observed the bird flying at top speed right down the middle of the road. Carolyn's parents, who lived out of state, were on their way to visit Mike and Carolyn. They just happened to be driving down the very road the cockatiel was flying, when suddenly, it flew into the grill of their car.

"Dear," Carolyn's Mother said, "you just ran into a cockatiel, it flew into the grill!"

"Are cockatiels native to Kentucky? That must've been another kind of bird," he responded.

He got the bird out of the grill, and handed it to his wife....I had observed the entire episode and was waiting by our driveway for them to pass. They stopped and she handed me the bird and told of the incident and the ensuing conversation. All three of us laughed, and I told them that the bird had escaped, and, no indeed, cockatiels are not native to Kentucky.

It is incidents such as this that we remember and when we see friends, we do enjoy reliving them.

From Father's Heart To Yours By Ralph and Pamela Hale

The Kingdom Within

In Pursuit of God's Heart

When preaching the gospel in the early church, the preachers almost always make a history report in order to show how God brought Jesus Christ to us just the way He promised.

In many of these David was named because of God's promise to restore the tabernacle of David and of the seed of his flesh the King Jesus would come.

When speaking of David, Paul the apostle stated that he was a man after God's own heart who would fulfill all His will. (Acts 13:21-22) (I Samuel 13:14)

If you recall David was not God's first choice for King over Israel, Saul was chosen first and was a humble man in the beginning. He later gave way to disobedience, pride, selfish, ambition, self preservation instead of trusting God. This is when the scripture comes in the view that God puts down one and sets up another.

God then sent Samuel the prophet, the same Samuel that He sent to anoint Saul to anoint David, stating that He had found Him a man after His own heart.

It is important to note here that David was the youngest of Jesse's sons. God did not call David for what he was going to be, but for what he already was. A man after God's own heart and because of this he would fulfill all God's will.

David developed his desires for God as a boy. He was only a youth when God chose him yet he had already been in pursuit of God's heart.

When we look at David's life we find that his father trusted him and gave him responsibility. He took care of the family's flock of sheep. Can you imagine putting a boy of thirteen in charge of the families' flock today? To face a bear and a lion to protect the flock took a person that had faith in God and took their responsibility seriously. David was also trusted to go to his brothers with gifts, food, and to take their pledges as well as bring back an accurate report of the war. He was in essence to Jesse what Joseph was to Jacob.

God's view of things is almost always different than what you will find among people. The people had seen David as a mighty warrior before he fought Goliath and won. What he had done with the bear and lion had already gotten him a name among men. Saul was also a great warrior and had lead the armies of Israel in many battles and many victories but it didn't keep the crown for him. The humility we have when we are called is the same humility we must maintain all our lives. Being in pursuit of God's heart is a lifelong endeavor and David had already developed a life is pursuit.

God sis not choose David for what he was going to be but for what he already was. He did in fact become a teacher to God's people, he was called the sweet psalmist of Israel, he taught people that God could be approached and people could have a living, personal relationship with Him.

But these were not the things the preachers preached about him. They preached his pursuit of God's heart. David was given such a memorial for his pursuit. He was given the blessed seed of which Jesus was promised and came. He was used as the means of revival in Israel every time they had one. He was always part of the preaching of the gospel. He was promised to always have a man on the throne of Israel and a priest from his house.

This memorial goes on for eternity! You too can have, enjoy, and receive a memorial from God by pursuing God's heart like David did.

As the hart planteth after the water brooks, so planteth my soul after thee O God. My soul thirsted for god, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God? Psalm 42:12

Are you panting?

This week's inspiration

This week's inspiration from scripture verses Mark 4:26-34: June is the growing season. Green is the color of growth and the liturgical color of the church at this time. We've all seen how a plant can grow from a small, insignificant seed. How does your life as a disciple of Jesus grow? God creates the seed and causes it to grow. Everything is packed in the little, tiny seed. God's seed for us is the word of God. His word is the seed we need to sustain life and grow the garden of our Christian life. We need His word each and every day. If we use His seed faithfully, we can do great things. The parable of the mustard seed reminds us that God's beginnings may be small but the results are great. God wants us all to flourish.

AREA NEWS

Wooden Bridge Fire Snarls Traffic in Clinton Area

KY 1037 remains closed in Hickman County at the edge of Clinton due to a fire on a wooden railroad overpass early this morning. Area fire departments responded about 4:30 a.m., CDT, to the structure that carries vehicle traffic over a main rail line.

Also known as Gore Road
and Crap Shoot Road, KY

1037 runs between KY 780 and KY 123 south of Clinton.

A KYTC bridge inspector says an initial check of the fire damage indicates mostly railing damage. However, a more thorough inspection of the wooden structure will take a day or two to complete. Meanwhile, KY 1037 will remain closed at the bridge site while that work is being completed.

Early reports from the site indicate the fire may have been deliberately set. A state Fire Marshall and a Kentucky State Police arson investigator were expected to arrive at the site around noon to initiate an investigation into the cause of the blaze.

The wooden bridge had been restricted to one lane with a lowered weight limit since December 2010 when a routine inspection by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet found deterioration in the bridge support structure.

Railings and curbs to restrict the aging wooden bridge to one lane had been added by the railroad to limit traffic crossing the structure to one vehicle at a time. Through a cooperative effort between the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, Canadian National Railroad and local officials, the bridge is on schedule to be replaced with a modern concrete structure with construction expected to start sometime late this year or early next year.

This timber bridge is on KY 1037 at mile point 0.481. Approximately 800 vehicles travel KY 1037/Crap Shoot Road/Gore Road in Hickman County in an average day.

The bridge on 1037 was damaged by an early morning fire

Kentucky Parents May Fill College Aid Gap with Private Loan from KHESLC

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (June 15, 2012) — Kentucky parents who need help paying for a child's college expenses may want to consider a Kentucky Advantage Parent Loan from the Kentucky Higher Education Student Loan Corporation (KHESLC).

The low-cost, state-based loan can fill the gap between other financial aid a student receives and the total cost of education. It has a fixed interest rate lower than that of the Federal PLUS Loan. In addition, a parent can use the KHESLC loan to help pay for a student attending graduate or professional school.

Students should apply for all free aid, such as grants and scholarships, and Federal Stafford Loans before parents turn to a private loan.

To qualify, a borrower must:

- Be the parent or stepparent of an undergraduate or graduate student, as determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

- Be a Kentucky resident.
- Be a U.S. citizen or a non-citizen with a proof of residency card.

- Have an acceptable credit history or an approved cosigner.

The loan is only available to parents who reside in Kentucky.

Borrowers who begin repaying the loan while in school pay a fixed interest rate of 7.25 percent and a 2 percent guarantee fee. If payments are postponed until after the student finishes school, the interest rate will be 7.75 percent and a guarantee fee of 3 percent. Borrowers will also receive a 0.5 percent interest rate reduction for auto debit payments.

Applications may be submitted online at www.kheslc.com. For more information, call 888-678-4625.

KHESLC is a public, nonprofit corporation that provides education loans for students and parents. It was established by the Kentucky General Assembly in 1978.

Kentucky State Police Updates Patrol Cars

Motorists throughout the state may do a double-take this summer as the Kentucky State Police begin rolling out new cruisers with an updated look.

The agency is transitioning from the Ford Crown Victoria, which is no longer being manufactured, to the 2012 Chevrolet Caprice Police Patrol Vehicle (PPV). KSP recently purchased 125 of the vehicles (100 in traditional gray and 25 in tan for use by its Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Division) to begin replacing its aging fleet of 2004-2010 model Fords.

“Our current fleet is subject to a rigorous maintenance schedule designed to extend the working life of each vehicle as much as possible,” says KSP Commissioner Rodney Brewer. “However, law enforcement applications are extremely hard on vehicles.

To ensure that our officers can continue to respond to public needs in a safe and effective way, we’ll be updating our fleet on a soft conversion basis as current vehicles wear out beyond repair and as funding becomes available.”

The Caprice PPV is a full-size, rear-wheel drive sedan developed exclusively for the U.S. law enforcement market. It features a six liter, 355 horsepower, V-8 engine that provides the high performance needed to meet all of the agency’s patrol needs. (Photo by Les Williams, KSP Public Affairs Branch)

Water - Essential for Life

This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We want to assure that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality product. Water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system.

We utilize two wells that are classified as ground water. These wells are drilled in the Claiborne aquifer for processing at our water treatment plant. The City has completed a Wellhead Protection (WHPP) and is working to implement strategies in an effort to protect the water we all consume. The sensitivity of the aquifer to pollution is low due to a confining layer of clay. This, however does not mean that our aquifer can not be contaminated. A susceptibility analysis was performed as part of a source assessment. Land use in the recharge area is a combination of residential and agricultural activities. Activities, which have the ability to contaminate, include HWY 51, railroad and pesticide application. These activities and how they are conducted are of interest to the entire community because they potentially affect your health and the cost of treating your water. A copy of the source water assessment may be reviewed at the Purchase Area Development District (270) 247-7171.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities).

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - or milligrams per liter, (mg/l). One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Spanish (Español) Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre la calidad de su agua beber. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

Regulated Contaminant Test Results
Contaminant [code] (units)	MCL	MCLG	Report Level	Range of Detection	Date of Sample	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination

Attorney General Urges Child Cyber Safety

FRANKFORT, Ky. (June 12, 2012) – Attorney General Jack Conway reminds Kentucky families about the importance of staying safe online. In observance of National Internet Safety month this month, and with many kids at home alone over the summer months, General Conway encourages parents to talk to their children about the Internet and how to stay safe online.

“A survey of 10 to 17-year-olds by the Pew Research Center and National Center for Missing and Exploited Children showed that 34 percent had posted their real names, telephone numbers, home addresses, or names of their schools online,” General Conway said.

General Conway has cracked down on Internet predators and child pornography through his Cybercrimes Unit. Since its creation in June of 2008, the unit has launched nearly 270 child pornography investigations and seized more than 300,000 child pornographic images and videos from the Internet. The Cybercrimes Unit is also a member of the Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force.

Attorney General Conway asks parents to follow these simple steps to help keep their kids safe this summer and throughout the year.

Online Safety Checklist:

- “Google your children (and yourself) often for your child’s contact information. It can help you spot ways in which your child’s personal information may be exposed to strangers online or could be an early detection system for cyberbullying posts.
- Keep the computer in a family room, kitchen or open area, NOT in a child’s bedroom.
- Teach your children they should never meet an online friend in person unless you are with them.
- Find out what email and instant messaging accounts they have and ask them for their passwords for those accounts.
- Teach your children about the dangers of cell phone cameras and how they may be used against them. Cell phone images can be easily downloaded, altered and exploited on the Internet.
- Consider installing monitoring and filtering software. Check for free downloads at www.safefamilies.com or www.K9webprotection.com.
- Texting/Cyberbullying

The following are important tips from the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) regarding texting and cyberbullying.

- Never respond to harassing or rude comments.
- Save or print the evidence.
- Talk to your parents or guardian if you are harassed and get help reporting this to your ISP, school, or local law enforcement if you feel threatened.
- Report anyone you don't know who asks for your personal information, photos, or videos.
- Report inappropriate or obscene material from people or companies you don't know.
- Tips To Prevent Sexting

Think about the consequences of taking, sending or forwarding a sexual picture of someone underage, even if it’s of you.

Never take images of yourself that you wouldn’t want everyone—your classmates, teachers, family or employers to see.

Before hitting send, remember that you can’t control where this image may travel.

If you forward a sexual picture of someone underage, you are as responsible for this image as the original sender. You could face pornography charges, go to jail and have to register as a sex offender.

Report any nude pictures you receive on your cell phone to an adult you trust.

NOTICE OF SALE

SHIRLEY CARTER, ET AL.

DEFENDANTS

By virtue of order and judgment entered in the Carlisle Circuit Court on May 17, 2012, I shall offer for sale, for satisfaction of judgment, interest, costs, and fees, to the highest and best bidder on Monday, June 25, 2012 on or about 10:00 A.M., at the Carlisle County Courthouse, just inside the front door, a certain parcel of land located in Carlisle County, Kentucky at 6783 State Route 62, Bardwell, Kentucky 42023, Parcel/Map ID# 043-00-00-039.05 and more particularly described on the attached Exhibit "A".

Said property shall be sold subject to all existing restrictions, utility easements, and rights-of-way now of record; any matters which would be disclosed by an accurate survey or inspection of the property; any current assessments for public improvements levied against the property; and to any right of redemption which may exist.

The property shall be sold for cash or on a credit of thirty days, with the privilege of the purchaser to pay purchase money at anytime before maturity. If sold on credit, the purchaser shall pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price in cash and shall execute a sale bond for the remainder of the purchase price, with good and sufficient surety and bearing twelve percent (12%) interest per annum from the date of purchase until paid and fully due and payable in thirty days. Said deposit shall be made and sale bond executed at the time of sale. If sold on credit, the commissioner shall retain a lien on the property until the purchase price plus interest and costs are paid in full.

All delinquent taxes shall be ascertained and paid and the property shall be sold free and clear of any liens of the parties herein. The purchaser shall be required to pay all property taxes against the property for 2012 and all subsequent years.

Should the purchaser default, the deposit shall be applied to any expenses that result from said default.

Some sales may be canceled and any announcements made at the sale take precedence over printed matter contained herein.

The undersigned Commissioner does not have access to the inside of the subject property.

This the 5th day of June, 2012.
